1. APPLICATION PROCESS

Stage 1 Expressions of Interest

Expressions of Interest are sought from artists (or a team of collaborating artists) to deliver a piece of Public Art. Shortlisting will be based on the information provided (see Appendix A) using the Evaluation Criteria set out in Appendix B. Please read Appendix A carefully and comply fully with the requirements.

The deadline for receipt of applications is 5th December 2014. The selection panel will consider submissions received by this deadline and select up to three artists to go forward to Stage 2 of this process.

Stage 2 Proposal

The sum of Stg£500 will be made available to up to three artists / teams who will be invited to present their proposals to the selection panel. The proposal must include; sketch designs, visualisations and/or a maquette as well as an explanation of the concept for the artwork, how it relates to our theme and how the artist/artist team would approach its design, fabrication and installation. Details of maintenance requirements and lifespan expectations should also form part of the presentation.

The artist/artist team must demonstrate how the work can be implemented within the allocated budget and details of the anticipated duration of the project with timescale broken down into research, production and delivery. The selection panel aims to select one artist / team to undertake the commission.

The Colgan Community & Resource Centre Ltd will be at the heart of this project and the selected artist/artist team must demonstrate how they will work with the community to develop a sense of ownership / pride in the piece & the environment and most importantly help create a shared space for all. Therefore the artist/artist team must also outline the approach they will take to engage and work with the local community and showcase the successful project.

Selected artists / teams must submit their presentations to Jeanette Longwill, Secretary, Colgan Community & Resource Centre Ltd, Colgan Hall, Carndonagh, Co Donegal by the stipulated deadline.

2. BACKGROUND

The project seeks to develop a legacy artwork reflecting the group's journey towards peace.

The Building Peace through the Arts – Re-Imaging Communities Programme themes are community cohesion, regeneration through the arts, positive relations at the local level, peace and reconciliation, connecting communities.

The objective of this project is to develop healthy relationships and connections between individuals, groups and communities and to increase social cross community engagement in the town and outlying areas of Carndonagh. It is well documented that the Inishowen peninsula has suffered from rural isolation and peripherality as a result of its geographical location and has many displaced persons. As a result, the population is segregated, typically each community is inclined to remain where it is most comfortable, occasionally making an effort to attend each others events where little or no requirement for interaction is necessary.

As a first phase of the project the group developed a local steering group to help manage the process. A team of two artists were recruited to carry out creative community consultation with a wide range of stakeholders in the community. The artists presented a report containing their findings to the steering group including possible themes and potential site locations for the proposed artwork. The steering group agreed Gather and Celebrate here as the theme most open to artistic interpretation.

3. ARTIST'S BRIEF

Theme : "GATHER AND CELEBRATE HERE"

For the past 100 years Colgan Hall has been the centre for celebrations where people from all sections of the community gathered, irrespective of race, class, creed, ability or disability. Close to this site people would have gathered on local fair days where they would have tied up their horses and upended their carts while they enjoyed the local fair or maybe had their horses shod at the nearby forge. (This building is still there). People have enjoyed feiseanna, dance, fancy dress, musicals, drama, film and leisure activities here and this is a fitting theme to ensure gatherings take place into the future which will lead to increased opportunities for social interaction and enhancing community ownership of an iconic space. It will also provide a platform for social interactions and a re-awakening of community spirit in the Carndonagh area.

The theme, "Gather and Celebrate Here" has emerged from the workshops as a common thread which ties the users of the hall together, in an area where everyone can leave their differences at the gate and join in a space together which provides a tranquil freedom from prejudices of all subtleties. The art piece will look at how to further embrace and develop the sentiment of sharing, open mindedness, inclusiveness, celebration, fun and joviality in a space where people can gather and celebrate together. The idea of a seated area where people of the community could gather and celebrate was identified at all four workshops. An iconic area/structure where photographs could be taken and groups or individuals could mark developments/celebratory aspects of their lives. The artwork will assist in changing individual attitudes, behaviours and skills, by addressing physical segregation and developing healthy relationships between groups and communities thus promoting reconciliation and peace building aspirations. The steering group of this project are happy in the choice of this theme as we feel it reflects the aims and objectives of what Colgan Community & Resource Centre was set up to do

These direct quotes from participants in the Re-Imaging Communities consultation process reflect some of the thinking behind the proposed theme:

- *"The Colgan Hall was built in 1914 when the rest of Europe was at war and experiencing destruction. A dedicated community gathered funds for 10 years before it was built. They were determined to have this centre."
"A place to engage in the present."*
- "This hall was a place of gathering in celebration and in protest, a place to be seen and heard as a united community."
- "A space for sharing and addressing others"
- "A neutral place of gathering and celebration for special occasions"

- "A space to reflect the 'hustle and bustle' and laughter...a place to gather"
- "Coming into the hall always gave me a warm feeling, it was bright and inviting"

Site:

The site is to the front of the Colgan Hall, at the far boundary area and extends from the boundary wall down as far as the footpath opening as indicated in the attached sketch. It is a closed in site accessible through gated entrances into the hall. There is a wall surrounding the hall and car park which encompasses the site. The preferred location for the public art is inside the hall grounds, to the front of the building, at the far boundary as indicated in the attached sketch.

The site is slightly elevated and runs on a downward slope this will have to be taken into consideration i.e. site levelling. There are no flags/emblems nor is it a contested space. It is a space where the community want to display their pride in the hall and how it has served the community for the last 100 years.

There was also a suggestion of incorporating the boundary wall as a part of the art piece.

Site Area Sketch and dimensions below:

SKETCH OF SITE LOCATION .

The Colgan Hall is leased from the Carndonagh Parish and is maintained and managed by the Colgan Community & Resource Centre Ltd.

Project Specific Constraints: It is part of the artists brief to contact utilities companies and statutory agencies for advice in regard to nearby services i.e. electricity and water supply for any artist wishing to incorporate light or water as part of the art works, although this is not a pre-requisite of the brief. Any work involved in extending the services to the site will be part of the overall budget. The site is on a road junction so, consequently, the artist will need to ensure that materials used take road safety into consideration.

Materials: The brief does not specify the materials to be used, but the artwork is intended to be permanent and of high quality. Therefore should be made of high quality, durable materials which require minimum maintenance.

Other Considerations: The successful artist / team will be expected to provide satisfactory drawings and elevations to satisfy planning procedures. On completion of the project, the successful artist will be required to provide an engineer's certificate to satisfy the groups Steering Panel that the artwork has been designed, constructed and installed in accordance with current standards and judgments.

4. PUBLIC ART SELECTION PANEL/STEERING GROUP

The selection panel is comprised of representation from local stakeholders and the Arts Council of Northern Ireland. This panel will be responsible for all short-listing and selection procedures as well as overall management of the pro
